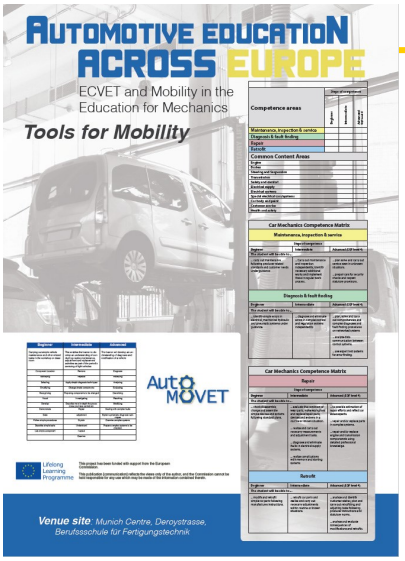
PILOT MODULES



7th October 2015, Munich

FINAL CONFERENCE

Final conference

After two years of hard work our AutoMOVET came to an end.

Last October we hold the project final conference in Munich. We were lucky to listen to two brilliant key note speakers: Karin Küßner - National contact point ECVET for Germany - and Thiemo Schalk – BMW Group Future Mobility.

Ms Küßner told us about:

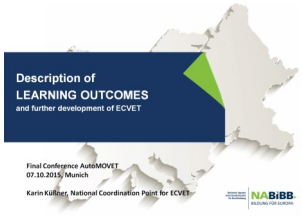
1. Role of learning outcome approach.
2. Defining and writing learning outcomes
3. Neccessary conditions for implementing ECVET
4. Development of ECVET

Mr Schalk, for his part, told us about the evolution and revolution of the mobility concept by BMW, as well as their strategy to answer to the challenges of sustainable mobility and changing market conditions

In between different partners presented the project and its results:

1. Competence matrix
2. Module format
3. Module description template
4. MoU
5. Taxonomy terminology, a dictionary for common understanding



Round tables

We organized 7 round tables. Six of them presenting the different international modules for our car mechanics students and one more explaining the project EUmob (Electric Urban Mobility)

We closed the programme with different visits:

MAN truck factory
BMW factory
BMW world
MTU (Turbine factory)
Olympic Stadium

All materials are ready to use and for free and can be found on the project website: automovet.eu
